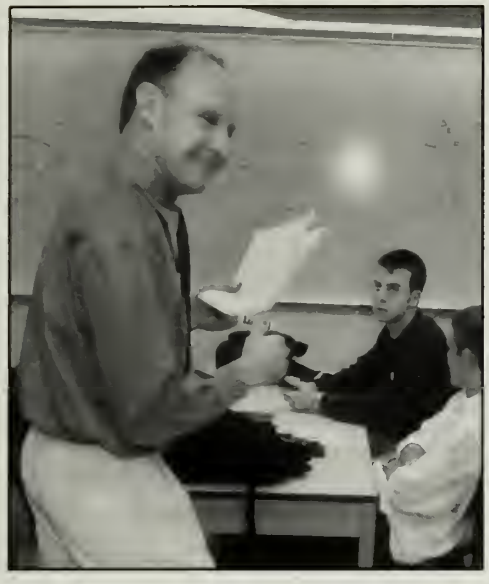
Tomorrow Looks Friendly

A Man of Heart

"When I find myself fading, I close my eyes and realize that my friends are my energy."



He has qualities that not too many people possess. He is a person that has helped to change Governor Dummer Academy for the better. We are thankful to have him at this school, because men like him are rare. He is a man of heart and warmth. His prescence in and out of the classroom keeps students in awe. He amazes us with his multitude of talents and abilities. From the math classroom to the soccer field, he can do it all, always offering a hand for extra help, or a shoulder to lean on. His support, dedication and sensitivity never go unrecognized. The fire of his soul is hot, and the passion still burns. We cannot live without him; he is such a vital part of our lives. Just his smile and his words, "hey girl," can turn around a bad day. In the words of Wilbur D. Nesbit, " The thing that goes the farthest towards making life worth while, that costs the least, and does the most, is just a pleasant smile."

This man with such a big heart is not only a teacher to us, but he is also a friend. We want to thank him for what he has given to us and the school. We will always remember his energy, his heart. He is a significant part of the editor's lives, and he is a friend forever. A person once said, "When I find myself fading, I close my eyes and realize that my friends are my energy." This man is definitely our energy.

For being the person that he is without much effort, the yearbook of the MILLENIUM is dedicated to a person that posesses this energy.

David Van Ness

A New Tradition... of Recognition

The award of recognition goes to the person who has played a significant part in the lives of the Yearbook editors throughout their time at Governor Dummer Academy. With all types of changes that occured this year, we, as the editors, would like this to be another change that will become a tradition in the years to come.

She is one whom is admired by all who know her in our community. Her caring manner and openness exhibit why she is known not only as a great mentor, but also to many as a great friend. She expresses her views thoughtfully and tactfully in the classroom, whether it be in her Women's Issues or Psychology classes. Her door is always open to those wishing to talk about their pasts, futures, or simple daily frustrations. She never fails to listen and advise with wisdom and teaches her Peer Advisors to do the same with remarkable success. A woman who possesses great charisma and warmth, she is the foundation of the well-being of our institution. Throughout our years here, she has played a vital role in the lives of these two editors. She is our teacher, our mentor and our friend. The recipient of the first recognition award of 2000 is Ms. Elizabeth Ruhl. Thank you Ms. Ruhl, for helping us throughout our four years here, and thank you for being who you are. We admire you so!

A Fond Welcome....

The installation of a new headmaster into a community is a change that no person within the community is completely ready for. It is a time of great anxiousness among its members. Many are afraid that the place they know so well, full of significant traditions and events, will be unfavorably altered. But one headmaster has put these fears to rest with his persistence towards keeping the old ways intact and his welcoming of the new ways as well. This man is the 27th headmaster of Governor Dummer Academy. He is Mr. Marty Doggett.

The Doggett family has come to GDA after 25 years of working and living at the Lawrenceville School in New Jersey. Their five sons join them, whose presence brings a new youth to our campus. The Doggetts come possessing a great enthusiasm to learn about this place full of various traditions while looking towards the future and viewing great possibilities.

We warmly welcome the Doggett family into our community. Their presence marks the beginning of a new era in Governor Dummer history, of a new headmastership. It marks the beginning of the Doggett years.

"As the millenium draws near, GDA students can be found reaching for the future as well as reflecting on....."

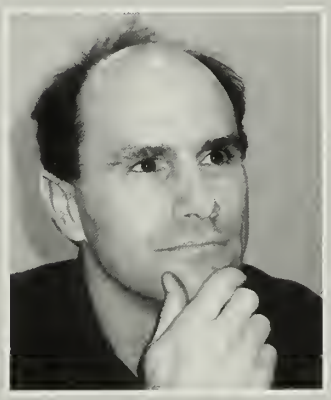
The Changes Occuring

It is evident that change brings new opportunities. It is also true, as Mark Twain said,that, "none of us know what the next change is going to be, what unexpected opportunity is just around the corner, waiting a few months or a few years to change the tenor of our lives."

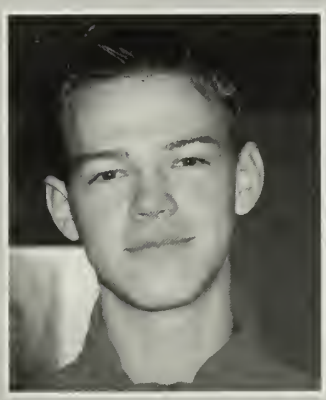
Governor Dummer Academy has experienced significant change within the last couple of years. The change has been in all forms. From the construction of the new Math and Science Center, Pescosolido Library, the new schedule, afternoon program, faculty and dining hall, to simply the graduation of the senior class and the welcoming of new students. Each year is a new opportunity, and a new beginning. For this reason, the editors of the 1999-2000 Milestone, decided to make change as its theme. As a community we will continue to grow and become stronger, because that is what change does. Sheehy once said, "If we don't change we don't grow. If we don't grow we aren't really living."

Do you like the new schedule?

"I am not one to lie...I have no classes!"
-Lindsey Gilmore



"Yes, because I'm done at 10 o'clock three days a week!"
-Mr. Gerry



"No, I have class during lunch on Wednesdays and break isn't long enough."
-Dave White

Wey-Oh!

The boys flex their muscles after a long hike up the mountain.

Elizabeth does a great Jim Clair imitation during Skit Night.

This group builds unity while building a pyramid.

Mr. Quigley puts on an entertaining mock of Dale at Brantwood, with the earing and all!

Mrs. Bromley the raptor screeches around the room as Shelly tries to hide in the background.

These boys made it to the top in style!

Annie and Elizabeth show their enthusiasm during Skit Night.

Once Elizabeth reached the summit, she managed to give a small smile.

Jim follows along as Teaya shows off her moose ears.

Jim, you're so Shwag!

RVARD

Mark Lipman

I can't believe this! All of it is so exciting and different. I feel like there should be a kids picture book that explains it all ("Where Did I Come From?", "What's Happening to Me?"...). Anyway, this is a huge beginning, not just an ending. Well, that's how I believe and hope the rest of my life will be. I hope that for all of us. It was a tough year for me not because of a course load (hahaha... shut up) but because I struggled to get my priorities straight. And maybe if that had been a course I would've failed it miserably, but it isn't. I've grown mentally this year, and I've gained some much needed self-esteem (thanks to EVERYONE who let me analyze their behaviors and lives... sorry, I can't help it.). It all came with a price though- I knew I'd lose you. So yes, I'm grateful for having known all of this. The past four years of my life have changed me forever. I have regrets about the way I treated people sometimes, but I'd just like to say to them that I didn't mean it personally at all. Anyway, now the special thanks: Dr. O- Thanks for always being such a responsible advisor to us all. It meant more than anything to me to know that you truly cared about us. Thanks for the trusting advice you willingly gave to me. Ms. Ruhl- My goodness! Why in the world did I never go talk to you sooner than I did? Thanks for listening (maybe that's what everyone says, but it's different because it's ME, and I know I'm "special"!). How do you do it again? Mrs. Hamovit- Thanks for helping me find my faux-fur gopher! Mr. Stowens- Thanks for dealing with us all! Thanks for having faith that I can sing 70's disco/funk songs! Jessica Spooter- Did you spooter? Oh no, that was George. Your dog is crazy! But I love your dog! "Stay cool" and you can come visit my sleepy house anytime! Love you! And keep mansion house alive (our mecca)! Beth- My love! You kick A! Thanks for your beautiful soul! TASTA!!! Bijou- Go Xena! We'll write that horror story yet! Thanks for telling me I'm not crazy! Eve- PIZZA! FOOD! Freud, oh yeah. Naughty little Mr. Id! Have fun and keep in touch! Val- Worm! Lippopottomus! We made it through 4 loooong years! Have fun, keep in touch! Salut! Paige- Wow! We're finally here! I owe a lot to you. If I could say anything it would be thanks for caring about me, and I hope you will always see how special and wonderful of a person you are. I'll always remember Brantwood under the stars. Love you! Take care and keep in touch! Everyone else who I owe my happiness to: Fran (oh, excuse me!), Kenzie (0-G Jenga!), Jocelyn (I saved your life again), Gobin (frstr the snrmrn), Sarah (give me your beard), Jess (weird dreams- the head!), Zenovia (Z-dog! Spay-spay!), Eddie (ew, not you again), Diana (can I use your art?), Willow (get funky with your bad self), Lauren (the ceramic room is a disco), Alyssa (slow down, what did you say?), Kim (boomboomboom je parle Way-O!), Ande (and next year's art club prez is...) Elizabeth & Kempton (puff lives on!), and all the rest of the really cool people who like me for who I am! (ULTIMATE CHEESE!) Goodbye everyone! Special thanks and love to my family- nothing compares to what I have gained from you. I'll never really leave so I won't say goodbye. Oh please, I'm 45 minutes away!

Treacy – I am so glad I played field hockey freshman year. Otherwise who knows. You have been a great friend despite all of you wacky quirks, such as dancing in the movie's not to mention when your driving, and that hand waving that is also done when You know who's name is uttered. I don't know what I'll do next year when I won't be in Chem. without you. I just won't be the same. Have tons of fun next year, but do come in visit, (you can bet that I'll come down and see you.) Val – You are so much fun. You have always managed to come in and get me to stop what I'm doing and just go relax, which appreciate. I will never forgive myself for all the time I spent in the library sophomore year. (remember Treacy and average of 10 hrs.) It has been a privilege to be your friend. Just remember to get a little bit of work done next year. Gretchen – Get ready this summer I vow that I will come and visit. (If not you can hold it against me forever because it's in writing.) I am so glad you came to GDA. You have been a great friend; I always love it whenever we just sit down and talk, because I completely trust you and you give your honest opinion. (Don't ever change that!!!) I hope that you have a great time at school next year and wish you the best of luck. Anne – What can I say, I don't think I could have made it through math class without you and it was lots of fun playing softball with you. Just remember to find a little time in your busy schedule next year to keep in touch. Elizabeth T. – Hey there you amazing tenor. It seems such a long time since I met you during preseason, You are awesome in all that you do it was great having you in drama, you go all out. Mark – You have been a great friend; I will miss you so much next year. Keep up on your art and definitely keep singing, you have a real gift. Have lots of fun and I wish you lots of luck. Mike – Finally we are going to different schools. I know that we have never really gotten along, but I am glad you have always been there no matter how annoying I think you are. You have always kept me grounded and every now and then even given good advice. It will be weird being apart for so long but I know that we can handle it. I know that you will succeed in whatever you choose to do, and I want to thank you for being brutally honest and for just being my brother. Mrs. Connolly-Potter & Diana Jacklin – I can never thank you two enough. You have made music so special to me and brought me along wonderfully. I definitely think the beginning is very important and you made my beginning in music wonderful and put me on the right track. If it wasn't for your guidance I don't know what I would be doing today or where I would be musically. I hope that you both are happy and successful in what ever you do. Mom & Dad – You are truly a gift. I can never thank you enough. You have supported me and helped me through everything that I have chosen to do. You have always been there for me and I know that you will still be there for me next year. I love you both so much.

"No great artist ever sees things as they really are. If he did, he would cease to be an artist." -Oscar Wilde
"The truth is so limiting." -Dan Malick
"There are only two certanties in life: you never know and it all depends." -Kristine Trott-Malick

My life never has been and never will be "normal". GDA has been one strange educational experience, that I can't say I enjoyed, but will add to all the other spices in my life. I will never forget the faces (though don't count on the names) of the people that have influenced my life here.

Teresa: Sophomore year was tough, running accross the football field trying to make it to morning meeting and escaping Mrs. Karin's 2 am room checks. Genevieve: our plans to take over the world and create clones of "you know who" won't be foiled! Bijou: you are Xena in disguise, never will forget our X-philes treks! Paige and Beth: you are the coolest hall buddies, may your lives always be strange and wonderful. Mr. Brace: I am only like the way I was this year- thankyou for being such a cool art teacher. Mrs. Okula: you have made me fall in love with ceramics, thankyou. Mr. Quigley: I'm glad I changed my mind. To the Miduras: Sunday night was a tradition, whatever will I do next year? Didit: You have to become a fashion designer, thanks for all the fun times. To my dorm parents and proctors: those who know me well, know that I am obstinate, sarcastic, have a wandering mind and disregard most rules— I made life interesting didn't I? I will remember you fondly. Mr. Abu: PLEASE LET ME PASS FRENCH THREE! Lucinda: Now you are the only Alaskan, may you answer stupid igloo questions with pride. Andrew, Lars, Eve, Justin, and John and the rest of the crew: you are fun to be around— don't change too much. Mike: WTO is GOOD! To the Bali Bunch: I love you all—regardless.
Cedar: We both have our heads in the clouds, love ya.
Heather: You are amazing as you, but don't beat up Cedar, love ya!
Dad: I've turned out alright haven't I? Thankyou for supporting my choices, I love you.
Mom: I know it was torture hearing me suffer 5,000 miles away and being helpless. What didn't kill me has made me stronger. You have been my champion my whole life, thankyou, I love you so much.

Willow Malick

Bijou Mgbojikwe

At the risk of sounding corny I must say this: I'll miss you guys. My three years here with you have been nothing short of incredible. We have lived through the triumphs and tribulations of school and have reached this most sought-after point. I will be so sad to leave . . . Yeah right! Halleluia! Halleluia! Halleluia! Sing with me! Somebody! Halleluia! Halleluia! I'm delirious right now but I still would like to say goodbye properly to all of you.

To Eddie: You've come a long way from the dorky black boy I once thought you to be. You are now one of my best friends and I wouldn't have been able to survive GDA if it had not been for your quirky sense of humor. I hope you enjoy Arizona. You know you can still join me at Wellesley anytime. I'm sure they won't notice if you're the only male in class. Lastly I must say Aaliyah is the cutest baby there is.

To Paige: What is your real hair color? I don't believe I've ever seen it. However you are the only one I know who could ever wear blue or purple hair with grace and style. We've been through it all from your brother's lovely traumatizing magazines to Physics. Physics was hell and it's safe to say that without you by my side I would not have made it through without committing some regrettable act. Say "quarter". I also hope that one day, you will realize that even though you may feel sad and alone now, as long as you keep your father's memory alive, he will always be with you and that he was proud of you as you are. I hope you enjoy Reed. I'll miss you! WWF baby rules!

To Zenovia: I've known you who were since my freshman year but I didn't really get to know you until senior year. I regret all the time in between that we both lost. But in the last precious few months I got to know and experience the warm funny "angry black woman" I'll miss. I hope they are some angry black women where I'm going. I'm sure they'll be fun to chat with. I promise to visit and stay in touch. Maybe I'll even do that experiment with plantains and email you what they really taste like. I love you Ze Ze and hope you enjoy all the gorgeous black men where you go.

To Candy: It may seem that everyone's leaving you Candy but you will still have fun and you will still go and make new friends. Of course we'll come back to visit. I expect you to be doing a lot more singing then. You have a beautiful voice and disposition. I'll always remember and hope you remember me.

To Jessica: Watson! You are truly unique and you rock my world. I hope you never lose your cheer and optimism to the harshness of life. Keep being who you are and resist all efforts aimed at making you change what you believe in. One day, I promise, we'll shed the responsibilities of the world and build ourselves a ranch in the country with flowers and horses and live happily ever after. I'll never forget you!

To Natalia: Have fun at Pomona! Hello California!

Mom and Kene: If it weren't for you guys, none of this would've been possible. Love you guys!!

Mr. Suggs and Mr. Wann: Thank you for being there for me all these years. I appreciate the fact that you believed in me and supported me through all journeys---both frustrating and fruitful.

To start with, thank you to everyone. You've all helped make this place a second home for me for the last four years. There's too many people for me to thank in 100 pages, much less 1/2. But here's my best attempt.

Thank-you to Beth, for always being there to discuss Star Wars and the structure of reality and acting. Willow: keep up the Duchovney clone faith. It'll happen some day. Meantime, thanks for being there for a fellow X-Files freak. And speaking of X-Files: thank-you, Bijou, for putting up with me and for teaching me more about WWF than I ever thought I would know. I'll always root for Chyna. And last but not least in the X-Philes list, Sarah, I'll always think of you when I see a web page about cloning Mulder, or pyromaniac tests, or...

Yori: Thank-you for reminding me to laugh at myself even when it felt like the world was completely serious. Paige: Thanks for all of the '80s glam child memories. And thanks for giving me another chance after that hideous freshman year. Thank you also to Tania, Jeff, Simon, Bettina, Natalia, Karen, Ethan, Skip, and all of my other friends. You know who you are.

Mr. Gosse: Thank you for all of the math and coding. It's fun stuff. Mr. Wann: thank you for teaching me how to really act. I was already writing, but you helped me become a writer. Thank you to Dr. O, for great advice; Mr. Stowens, for managing to put up with me for four (4) years; Ms. Sedgewick for surviving me for four years in the dorm; and Mr. Doggett, Mr. Seufert, Mr. Brace, Mrs. Adams-Wall, Mr. Bragdon, and all of my other teachers, for trying to cram something into my mind, but more importantly, for teaching me about the life that goes behind and beyond the facts.

Hannah, Matt, Chapel was great this year, thanks to you, and everyone else who helped. Thanks also to my drama buddies, esp. the casts of Arcadia, Inspector Hound, Proteus 2000, and all the rest. Thanks to all of the Pierce and Farmhouse girls who have had to put up with living with me- not an easy task at times, I admit! Everyone in the Governor, GSA, and everyone else who's been my friend and allowed me to graduate from here with at least some of my sanity intact: thank you. Thank you from the bottom of my heart. You're all fantastic.

Best of luck and many thanks to everyone. And last of all, thank you to my parents, without whose love and support, none of this would have been possible.

We've been through times of joy
and times of Sorrow

We've seen friendships lost

Through out the years

Hey, watch out for seatbelts the next time you jump in a moving car, and there are always napkins in my glove compartment for the next time you feel the need to, uh, you know. God, I am glad that I don't have to take you home. Our friendship does not end here. Wow…Has it been four years already? It seems like yesterday that I met Yori (God bless her for introducing me to our class..it is ok to be shy!) and FLIP. Mr. Searles' English class and all the crazy adventures (Pulp Fiction!). I seem to remember being tripped and pushed into a puddle! Ahhh…the good old days….I have so much to say to you all. Everyone has had such a lasting effect on my life thank you. You are the greatest friends a person could have. I am very thankful to have known and spent time with you all. Thank you also for putting up with me for the last four years I am sorry I am so crazy! Ahhh…now for the few special people whom I have room to write here. (To all the others I just mention I don't mean to exclude you from these messages, but lack of space prevails!) Treacy-HEY BUDDY! Well we made it even if neither of us got 'potato!' You have been there for me through it all. I really don't know what I am going to do without you next year to laugh at my stupid jokes and understand my psychotic behavior. Remember that you are the best and most definitely the only person I can stalk Andrew D. with (Dec 1st!) We really are the coolest kids around. Car dancing yeah..S&P! Hey..what day is today? You got a what? Andy- I don't know what to say. You were a huge part of my GDA life. I will always love you and thank you for all of the wonderful times we shared. I know that it is hard to be friends, but if we could don't hesitate to call. I still want to hear your stories. I am sorry for everything; another time and place…maybe. Yori-Byfield! (yeah right!) Thank you for teaching me so much about myself. I have never had a friend so curious to discover the true me. Thank you for showing the interest. I am going to miss our little debates and talks about guys. I know that we will still have them online, but not the same. We will always have our little adventures in NH and I will never forget the silly silly late night conversations. I LOVE YOU! Al- You really are the best! I can't believe how much fun we have together. Ahh wild life. Cows are fun…I love goats..swans..and especially CATS! I love being around you Al. You are the greatest person that I ever met. I can't believe that this happened…Fate is awesome. I can't wait until we are drifters together. That will definitely be the best time of my life dude! I love you being my "status" and my best friend. I really do love you Al. Thanks for all the memories. Now to everyone thanks again…I love you

Paige, Natalia, Beth, Jason - you were my first real friends. You showed me how to trust, how to have fun, (sometimes how to worry about ya), but I'll never regret a single day spent with any of you. Oh, and never forget good times around GDA...and at yellow cottage! Val - Freshman registration to sharing a senior page. How did that happen? So much has changed. Thanks for sticking by me through it all. I owe so much to you, and I don't know what I'd've done without you Stacy - thanks for being such a loyal reliable friend. Please know I'll will always be there for you if you need me. And I'll be really cold, so Georgia is sounding good! Beth - never for a moment forget what an inspiration you are to all those around you. You are beautiful and truly one of a kind. I will be forever honored and grateful to have known you. I'll be there whenever you need a friend. Skip - I'm not going to say "keep in touch" because I know we surely will, and I will be able to tell you whatever I have to say. Canada cannot stop us. So, in the interest of space (because as you know I am likely to drone on indefinately), just one thing to sum it all up: Thank-You. To The Bragdons, Mr. Abu, Ms. Ruhl, Mr. Oxton, Susan Atwood: thank you all for opening my eyes or for being a friend....or for doing both! Thank you Mr. Wann for junior english, for Marat-Sade, for The Children's Hour, and for being you. To: Simon&Kat&Matt (good times with you all), old friends (Sarah, Liz, I miss you all), Brandon/Tex, Mo, Brace, Al, Therriault, Fran, Michelle, Alicia, Sarah, Tina, Gen, Brent, Treacy, Justin Lars & Andrew, John-Lars, Rybs, the Mikes (small, medium and large), Lippy, Ally, Jocelyn, Marj, Mackenzie, Candy, Elizabeth T., Kai, Jeff, Andy, Diana, Laura E., Lucy, Merill, the rest of the PhB couch-crew and everyone else that isn't mentioned right here but will definately be hearing from me about how great they are Thompson art-nerds forever!)...luv 2 all!

Mom and Dad- you have made everything that I have achieved possible, and I will never be able to thank you enough. I love you so much and always will. Tom- whether it was tricking our babysitters, dealing with difficult teachers, or just generally getting into trouble, you have always been right there beside me. I know you'll always be there for those tough situations, even if you're the cause of them, I love you. Lindsay- what has it been, fourteen years and counting? You have been so loyal, always covering my back, no matter what I am scheming. Don't worry we'll get Janet and Yori and head to Starbucks, we are such fanatics. You are such an amazing person, never forget that, I know I never will. Yori- you seem to be the first person I turn to in times of chaos (gee what does that say about you?), you are my accomplice in crime, and so much more; watch out for those shape shifters though. Plus, Val and you can stay away from my brother, hehehe. Val, god where do I begin? You were my first friend at GDA, after you tripped over the boat. Note to you: stop waving to all the scary guys, we don't need them following us, well unless you insist. Key West ruled! Hey getting hit on my scary guys seems to be a theme for us though; we should work on that. Treacy- when I am with you, I know we're going to have a good time, whether we are hitting Contempo, road tripping to NH, or playing field hockey (we make wonderful Brittany Spears), I spend most of the time hysterical. Keep loving math, just don't try to inform me how fun it is at 7:30am. Janet- you are a princess; never let Colin forget that. You are the sister I never had! I will never forget all the times we had together; gee why won't my flowers grow? Mobile stations are fun. Janet should I be worried about this? Lays- you can't have just one! Road Island hasn't been the same since we visited; we should have gotten beads, next time for sure, before Stu can stop us. Emily- you are my sexysupergeek! Never change, you are perfect just as you are. But, if you need anymore guidance you know where to turn. So how's that hand building experiment going? I will miss you so much next year, but don't worry I will come visit you and give you a pep talk before hockey games. Watch out for those cars that drive backwards on the highways! Cal- I missed you tons this year, GDA wasn't the same without you. All my prom pictures came out great; it must be because of the faces I made at you. Dale- I miss you. Good luck with college and follow your dreams. Michelle- see I told you that you'd love Contempo! Send me a postcard from whatever amazing place you are visiting next year and I'll send you a peach. To my Hockey Team- I had so much fun this year, thank you all for a wonderful season. Thank you Mr. Ceglarski, I can honestly say that this was my favorite year of hockey, you have helped me improve so much, thank you! Connecticut was a blast, hey Janet, Emily, and Lindsay, "gee you guys look awfully big, what kind of camera is this?" Good Luck with your season next year! Special thanks to: Mrs. A-Wall, Mr. Ceglarski, Mr. Van Ness, Ms. Sedgwick, Mrs. Hamovit and Ms. Williams. To all of my friends, you guys are the best and I love you all. Wait! Have you seen my belly ring? Ha, had to get it in one last time. So I guess this is goodbye for now, this year has been great, best wishes for the future. "Though the miles may take us far apart, our friendship will always go the distance."

To my seniors: Val- thanks for all the fun times: Potato! Hottie Matt, WinThrowUp "THERE ISN'T ONE!" FAT people, The We Know Andrew Club, NO BACKING OUT! Reverse stalkerism much? Adventuring with the cool kids club to such nonexistent places as Merrimac and also such existent places as random farms. Motor scooter boy! I love eggs, from my head down to my legs. Watch out for the bloody ones! I'll miss you next year, but don't worry, I'll just paddle up the river to visit. Elizabeth- my tap dancing buddy, thanks for teaching me how to pump gas. Fun times in mano: "Pardon me, but I wouldn't want to scrape your epidermis with my peg." Remember the time you made a hole in the table in the ceramics room freshman year? THE MUGAR OMNI THEATRE – our little ride around Boston. Stacy- hey, our names rhyme! Thanks for being my co-senior for field hockey – STOP! We had way too much fun. Let's play the ukulele at chapel! Or not. Hey look! The Halloween store! We still need to get those shirts of the week, and find our boys with rhyming names. Merrill B. Lamont III- I'm your #1 fan. Yori- Did you know that there are more plastic flamingos in the US than real ones? Janet- 12 years of school together, what will I do without you? "Kids at Doyon always know there's a freind wherever they go" To my nonseniors: Alex- we're DEFINITELY the co-presidents of the cool kids club. Who else would run along 133 with me at night in the rain to take a picture of the highway? I swear you worked at Home Depot in a past life, no normal person can find toilet parts that quickly. Thanks for sticking your hand in the oven for me, and, by the way, I know those roots aren't natural! Tina- Risk parties were so much fun, keep the tradition alive next year. Little Mike- You better check yo'self befo' you wreck yo'self! I know all about you and your computer game addictions… Jocelyn- you were an awesome field hockey co-captain, sorry I ditched you in track. Andrew- What are you doing this weekend? Let's go postal! I'll find Einstein, you bring the bats. To my family: Parents- thank you so much for listening to my whining freshman year, you changed my life so much by allowing me to escape from IHS and driving me back and forth to Byfield for four whole years. I can never thank you enough for all that you have done for me in my life, I hope I've made you proud. Stephanie and Heather- I'll miss you kids so much next year, you've always been around to chill with on a dull weekend and to talk to about everything. Stay out of trouble and have fun cleaning the kitchen without me. Brian- you are the poolest squid I know, please don't forget that I'm your sister just because I'm never home. To everyone else: I am absolutely out of room, please don't be upset with me for not giving you a personal message, but thank you for making my time here more enjoyable: Madeline, Gobin (your name is Lindsay?), Simon, Hannah, Teresa, Natalia, Mark, Eve, Michelle, John, Middle Mike, McKenzie, every teacher I have ever had, and all of you random couch people. I'll miss you all, good luck in everything!

I came at the drop of a hat and will leave the same. My transience here is part of an adventure. I'd like to thank all those who have been a part, good and bad. You have all affected me in some way, changed me. My indifference has been the key this last year, a result of Ecuador. Had to figure out what was important. Dad(Kahuna), Mom, Steve, Shannon, Megan and Ryan- I love you all. Muxie- Good times, we had a few. The blazer and beamer both pivotal. Midnight in the snow. White squall on the boat. Cardiac arrest on Mt. Washington. We're lucky to be alive. Have to say I owe you a couple. Clay- You have accompanied me in some of the best trips of my life, and undoubtedly there will be more. Everest. Thanks for everything and sorry about the whole falling asleep thing; won't happen again. promise. Cottage boys- Can't wait to see where you all are in ten years. Salony, can't believe the change: for the better of course. Shorty, keep an eye on yourself. You have a great potential for mischief. Downey, keep philosophizing, healthily. Basketball- Team chemistry was a little lacking. duke, marco, malaka, mvb(jk jonesy), tony, flo, gus, leavitt, tom, coaches. We didn't win the ISLs. but the season was unforgettable. Thanks. Lax- gave me a bit of life. Beating on corriveau and morrisey. It was fun. Talks with Minx were invaluable. Inghamites- you are a sorry bunch. Ko, Lee and the Canucks, you know I'm right, always. Tomasetta, quit being a wuss. Nino, keeping messing with them. Tomasino, relax. Teachers, you have been masters. Ecuador- Te agradezco por haberme dejado escalar tus montanas y explorar la selva. Seria un chico bastante diferente sin ti. Me has aclarado la vista. Con eso me despido. Surf's up.

Mom and Dad: thank you for all your time, patience and money that you have invested in me without it I would be no where. I know I'm a crazy kid and have done a lot of things that you don't think are right but you have to understand that I'm trying to live my life the best I know how. Its been a crazy four years of high school hasn't it? I know I have put you through a lot of sleepless nights. I have spent a long time under your wings and now its time to let me fly on my own and see what I'm really capable of. Thank you for taking me this far. I wish there was some way I could repay you for all you have done to get me this far but I know that will never be possible. Krysia: Thank you for caring so much about me even when I thought no one else did. YA-YA Sistahhood!! Peirce Princesses Forever!!!!!!!!! i have morphed a bit since i've been here. tis to be expected. at least i've come to where i've wanted to be. change is inevitable, and hopefully one of these years i can convince myself of that and maybe accept it. my memories are complete with flashbacks when i hear certain music, see certain people. hear certain voices, smell certain scents. try as i might i will never ever ever be with any of you people again, at least as we are now. c'est la vie. the fact that i have this much space forbids me from telling everyone i care about what i feel/think, so y'all are getting the homemade version. freshman year: who the hell was i? and how in the hell did i get my friends? paige, natalia, jason, y'all were there. y'all protected me from most, and y'all loved me. the gods were smiling upon me in that area. you were my first real friends. the first. and maybe my truest. I can honestly say that if there ever came a day when i would have to face the worst of myself, it would be from then. i now know what fear is. and i never hope to have it again. freshman year was the beginning, and it was far from perfect. but it gave me the guts to get over anything, to move on, and to be myself without flinching. The year of lauren, paige, jason, natalia, yori, dawn, mr wann and kaiser. sophomore year: the year of the ovsky, ashley macissac, tennis, guitar and bass, insect infestation, the aphrodite dress, tests of faith, and marat/sade. the ultimate test and succession of trust. the meaning of trust. there will never come a time, perhaps when i get a lover or something, that i will have as much trust as i did then. once again, trust was made and broken, but the lesson never diffused. the most spiritual moments of my life as of now. period. art reigned, as did the sun from may days, the rain from february, and learning to cope, and seeing someone you truly love cry. smell the air after it has rained. that was sophomore year. macbeth and the marquis de sade were the voices. The year of watson, paige, mr wann, liz, my brother, eve, bijou, gobin and the victims of our attention junior year. MUWAHAHA. the year of takeover, the year of thompson, the guilds, the prom, ap english, the year of conquest and convolution. thompson was my cathedral, whether willingly accepted or not. and it will be gone come this summer. reduced to rubble. and the vibe from it will turn to rubble as well. this was the last year drama made a difference. this was the year i grew into myself. this was the year of the oddass freshman who turned up some interesting crops (read: the cobb room couch potatoes), this was when we had the guts to look challenge in the eye and take it. read: EPIIC, thesis, dance. the old enthused vibe of preceding classes was still there. fading, yet. the year of the new juniors. and the beginnings of the feasts of beltane.the year of patricia, heidi, elena, nina, kai, bettina, shorty, candy, sarah, val, rybicki, jeff t, simon, becca, and gogo senior year. we came back like we knew so much. the year of getting knocked down a peg or two, the year of shakespeare!(what can I quote? go on, ask me!), the year of aries and scorpios, the year of the bizooth (ahem). the year of finding an art, the year of losing one, the year of heavy metal, the year of hellfire and adrenaline, the year of the out, the year of the letdown drag out. the year of risks, the year of emotions. and the year of the proverbial personal shell. beauty has to be spotted in the most odd places, and old friends stay solid, and younger friends bail. much is found. but that too, will be given up for something promising to be grander. the year of voices, the year of cynicism, the year of religion, and the year of physicality. hamlet is the voice. and francesca block, the savior. i have a mab, and she lives next door. the year of the hanged man and obi wan kenobi and subsequent jedi training. The year of rybicki, paigela, candy, sarah g, kai, mike, (let's hear it for the pagans!) biz, kempton, bagod, michelle, andy, the german invasion, of jd mon ami, of my mother, of my step father or my dad, of the first, of the freshman, and of the gruups and the witches. these words before i leave this place, and take over the world as y'all know it: add jah-love to your vocabulary. marco polo. afraid are you? break *. god and magick are one the same. like is overrated, and love isn't. the mind and the heart are two totally different things. never turn your back to the audience. speak honestly, it saves a lot of bs from spewing out. hamlet is a literary god, and stephen king his pupil. francesca lia block is mab. sex and human nature walk hand in hand, and so does sex and death, so what does that say about human nature? kissing is fun. cast parties are only meant for those who know the meaning of "cast". never underestimate the power of stupid people in large groups, and playing like you used to as kids makes you feel invincible. stage dust is the fountain of youth, and talking to god is easy. Merry meet and merry part and MERRY MEET AGAIN!. i want a brick of thompson when y'all tear it down. the world shall turn, and soon that big meteorite will come and kill us all, so laugh your ass off when it does, cause it would suck to be at the end of the world, in all it's glory, crying. and finally: seems, madam? nay, it is, i know not "seems".

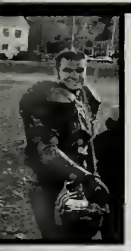
Thanks:
Mom and Dad: Thank you both for your unwavering support and understanding over the past four years. Thanks also for midnight rides home from Beverly Farms, for going to Boston that night freshman year, and for approximately 3,491 boxes of Cheez-its. Downey loved each one of them. In all seriousness, I could not have made it without you. Michael: You're something else (this works at several levels). Be your own man; go, see, and conquer, but for god's sake do your homework. GDA will change your life. You must also change its. Landers: Once and for all, I won. To the Men of Cottage: we have, for the most part, made it. Shorty (you've grown up, and beneath it all, become a hell of a guy.), Downey, Pelliteer (who now has our permission to assume 'California mode'), CJ (who's last laugh will take place on the other side of the wall), Muxie, and finally, Big Jeff. Who'd have thought…? Mincolla: beware the evils of the AMA! Have fun in enlightenment. Rothy: you're the man. Amelia: stop following me. My pen supply is dwindling. Bijou: send me a signed copy of your first bestseller, so I can prove to my kids that I sat next to you in English. Genevieve: be merciful with us when you conquer the world (and be good to them at Haavaahd). Perkins sophomores: you are the heart of the next truly great class. Rokous: thanks for everything, including, but not limited to, a new way of looking at life (and blackberries). Doc Bradley: you are an amazing teacher of much more than chemistry. Mr. Young: my favorite conspiracy theorist. I wish you the best at your new school. You deserve to be in charge. The Fathers of Perkins (Mr. Kelly, G-dawgs, Hirsch, and everybody's favorite Yalie): thanks for three years of guidance and humor. Mr. Gerry: who puts it all in perspective. Nellie: how did we survive Spain twice? How did I ever beat you in the two mile? Biddie: you were my first contact with GDA, and the lax season will be my lasting memory of it. Thanks for your patience (and for teaching me not to throw sidearm, sort of). Downey: It has been a hell of a ride, but we are still on board. This year has made you stronger, and your strength has taught me a thing or two about life. Thanks for all the long talks, stupid jokes, and weekend adventures. Ahh yes, we have made it, sanity partially intact. Finally, Jess: You have made the past two years so interesting, and so much fun. I hope I've made you as happy as you've made me (smile!). Every day with you in my life is a new dream. I love you very much (you are, after all, my queen).



After four years of sweat, tears and laughter, I have made it. The road has been long, but I have made many friends. I knew my time hear was going to be interesting the day I moved in. Cottage was a storybook collection of insecure and awkward 14-year-old boys (including myself). I was terrified by my new roommate who nailed a large mysterious flag on our wall before he even made his bed (Marco, you listened to the worst music!) Cottage faced many challenges (Ingham raid) but W/ the aid of Nellie (our fearless leader) we developed strong bonds with each other, many of you will always be my brothers. Salony, what can I say? You are the definition of a best friend. Our extreme personality traits complement each other quite well. We have certainly had some adventures; Tilden's party w/ poppa Salony, trail blazin' w/ Riley, tap dancing in 42nd St., and the caste party. Clyde, you're one of the funniest and most unpredictable people I know. From Tappan St. to GDA to Florida we have done it all; our fort on Beach St., movie producing in your basement, countless nights cruisn' the beach, and our escapades down south (did you ever find your clothes?). Holly, you have been such a great friend and have always been there for me. I had the biggest crush on you freshman year! Kate, we've become so close in these last few months. Together we have been through so much and shared so many emotions. I am forever grateful for our friendship. This final year has certainly been a tough one, but I can honestly say that it has made me stronger. Mr. Wann, Mr. Searles, Mr. Nguyen, and Nellie, I couldn't have made it without you guys. Mom, dad, and Dan, thank you for being so supportive. Ben, I will never forget you.

I have to say GDA has been a great experience for me one I will never forget. I would like to thank all the people who I have meet, and all the people who have influence me as a person over my four years at GDA. Good Luck to everyone wherever you go. Jon- If theirs one thing you have taught me is that persistence pays off. And I am still better then you at blitz. Jim Clair- Remember when we meet three years ago you a crazy six foot giant. Well nothing as changed, don't ever lose your craziness. I also hope to see you on the slopes of Color ado. We can add it to our Sun Valley and Barcelona trips. JD- A.K.A. Optimus You've been my good friend for a long time and have taught me a lot especially how to be lazy. Don't become a computer nerd at Rensselier. Muxie- Sailing was a lot of fun. I am almost an expert on boats, and cars. Remember Pimpin ain't easy. Jim Chao- What can I say, it's been an experience to remember. Master P- Tienes dirvertirse en Pamona. Surf some awesome waves. Pete- The only person who really needs a beeper. Shorty- 6 am, it's never to early. Seth- Good luck at Rensselier. We will have to snowboard some time next year and do some three sixties. The list: Cain, Mark, Delisle, CJ (the man), Mr. Gettings, Joel, V, Loren, Andy, Dave (mormon) White. Remember that you're only a happy as your mind lets you be!

These past four years have been a blast and I am grateful to everyone who has made it so special. To my friends, thanks for all the good times we've had and all the good times left to come. To those who haven't finished yet, learn from the mistakes of others and don't take anything for granted. Make the most of your time because you'll never have another opportunity and you don't want to say you didn't do everything you wanted to while you had the chance.Anne- (See, I did put you first!) This past year and a half has been a blast and I can't thank you enough. I'm going to miss you more than you can imagine next year. You've been my closest friend and I'm glad I found you because you're probably the only person in the world who could not only put up with my craziness for so long but love me for who I am. Mike-Try and use your powers of rage for goo rather than evil and you'll do alright. JD-I have learned a lot about laziness and video games from you. These are important lessons they wi never teach us in school. Seth-I wish I was going to RPI in the fall but it wasn't my choice. Good luck and maybe I'll transfer someday. Pete College will require a little more work than high school. No more going to bed at 9 and waking up at 5 to start a big paper due in a couple hours Mark-Your crazy for wanting to go the Coast Guard, but at least it's free and they give you a gun. Shorty- I had more fun with you on JV hocke than on any other team. Keep it real and have fun next year. Salony-You are the only person who realized I'm good at more than just math Good luck at Bowdoin next year. Jim-You are the funniest kid I know. Every time you're around it's a riot. Don't loose that and you'll alway enjoy yourself.The List (I couldn't think of anything to write but the trip wouldn't have been the same without you): Gizza, Master P, DeIisle Gabe, Jimmy C, Cian, Pete Ellis (stay Hardcore!), Muxie, Jeff, Loren, and last but not least Yu Nakagawa.To the Adults that made i possible(Teachers and otherwise) My parents, Mr.Gosse, Mr. Moore, Mr. Hart (the nicest man I have ever met), Dr.Scheintaub, Mr. V and a bi thank you to the financial aid department.

Thank you for your love and all you have done for this community.
You will be greatly missed.

Some people come into our lives and quickly go.

Some people stay for awhile, and give us a deeper understanding of what is truly important in this life.

They touch our souls.

We gain strength from the footprints they have left on our hearts and we will never be the same.

The Unforgettable WHOOP

What an exciting time it was: the crackling sounds of nasty coughs echoed across campus during the month of March. It was rumored to be the most contagious of all coughs, the whooping cough to be exact. One by one, students filed in and out of Duncan Health Center, some blessed with five days off, others loaded up with lots of antibiotics.

Those were the lucky ones. Others, such as Willow Malick, Zenovia Wright and Marika Guderian, faced five torturous days of being quarenteened in the prison-like health center, with its bland walls, funny smell and cement-hard beds.

Now the question is obvious - who really started this epidemic? Who was it that caused flocks of students to be sent home, leaving our campus bare and the health center bopping? I say let it be left to the powers that be, and just be thankful it's over. Thanks go to Ms. Bailey and her amazing health center staff, without which we would all still be hacking away and spreading the ugly, unforgettable whoopping cough.

Stepping Up

The juniors entered the '99-'00 year anticipating much change at GDA. These transitions have led to many new opportunities that have been grasped by the members of this multi-talented group. As a class with many new faces, we learned to fuse together and become one with a common goal: to give our best effort and exemplify the lessons we've learned throughout our time here. We faced a demanding and time consuming schedule which has been a challenge, but with the addition of fresh and bold ideas from new headmaster Marty Doggett and his wife, Patty, we have continued to pursue our tradition of eminence. This year we will create a new chapter in Governor Dummer's history, and the juniors as a whole will have played an integral part. The importance of the junior year has not gone unnoticed by these remarkable students. As a class we will continue to prove their maturity into valuable members of this community. A special thanks must be given to Mr. David Moore and Mr. Matthew Gettings for guiding our class in the right direction. Look out GDA because this class has aspirations and nothing is going to stop us from reaching our goal!

STARGAZERS

Off to a Great Start

The GDA freshman class of 2003 arrived on campus in September to officially become members of the GDA community. The next day our class began Unity Days. It started out with the popular name games and then continued into a fun-filled tour of Boston on a giant duck. We ate boxed dinners on the Common while watching the men's softball league. Our class finished up with a trip to Hodgies and the Freshmen Olympics.

The freshmen class bonded even more during F.L.I.P. We started off by getting to know the senior class, then forming smaller groups to play even more name games. Then we chased after the seniors in a game of hide-and-seek and ended the day with a barbecue.

What's the most embarrassing thing you have done on a date?

"The summer between my junior and senior years in college, I became smitten and fell in love with Mrs. Young. I fell so hard that I forgot that I had promised another girl a ride back to school from summer break. Her dad flew her back to school in their private jet. They were worried about me (since it was unlike me to break a promise) and came looking for me. Unfortunately, on their way to my room they found my new girlfriend before they found me. That incident was probably the most embarrassing of my dating years. Of course the old girlfriend forgave me, we are still friends, and so far everyone has lived happily ever after." -Mr. Young

What's the most embarrassing thing you have done on a date?

"At my college, there was this event called "Screw Your Roomate," where one's roomate would have to set him or her up on a blind date and make him or her do something really embarrassing, which was the point of the thing. Thus, I was set up on a blind date by my roomate, where my date and I were forced to go into this restaurant and go into the women's bathroom; both of us! It was one date I will not forget easily." Emily Ouimette takes on a defender with tenacity and skill.

Back That Up!

The Womens Varsity Soccer team, like last season, came out with tenacity and vengence. We were ready to take on our opponents, and hungry for wins. Our Red Dog attitude is what pulled us through the tough games. This brought us to compete in the New England Championships, where we lost in the second round against our rival Brooks. It was a close game (1 to 1), losing with the shootouts.

Our final record does not fully display the ultimate potential of the team. The tears and the sweat. The screams of joy and the moans of disbelief. The constant running and the torment of the football team ("soccer bunnies"). We did not succumb! We rose up to meet the hardest challenges and the toughest obstacles.

I am sad to leave such a wonderful team behind. We were more than a team. We were more than just "soccer bunnies". We were Dogs...and we were red. For those here next year, just remember that this is "Our game." BACK THAT THANG UP RED DOGS!

Red Dogs!

The men's varsity soccer team, though beset by injury and inexperience, had an exciting season. Training began far from home, as the team made a trip to Barcelona, Spain. As the season began, injuries at key positions forced many first-year varsity players to step up in competitive league play. The team had several flashes of brilliance throughout the season, including a dominating defensive effort in the second half against Nobles, last second heroics by Captain Sam Porter to tie St. Sebastian's, and a shocking tie with perennial league power, Thayer. Unfortunately, these flashes were inconsistent and unsustained, and the Govs will look to the promise of youth in 2000.

Obtaining Goals

The '99 Men's Cross Country Team's solid core of returning players was bolstered by an impressive turnout of new harriers. Returning from last year's team were co-captains Pete Aloisi and Marc McDonnell as well as junior Nate Efinger. The new varsity harriers included Brandon "Tex" Temple, Dan Lee, Sean Corbett and the German standouts Marcus Nestle and Florian Pauthner. The '99 team set its sights on the championship meets in November hoping to claim a fourth consecutive plaque (1st '96, 2nd '97, and 3rd '98). On a tough course at Hyde, Maine, the harriers battled to an impressive fourth place finish, just missing their goal of a plaque. Good luck to next year's team and the new co-captains, Nate Efinger and Daniel Lee.

Remember November.

Singing A Song

The 1999 Women's Cross Country team had a great season filled with solid succeses and personal records. With the mantra "Remember November" in the back of our minds and the cross-country song on our lips, the 11 girls comprised one of the most spirited teams in history. The second place finish at the first official meet, the Pingree Invitational, was a good omen, and provided us with the enthusiasm and confidence required to run strong for the remainder of the season. On November 11th, we competed in The New England Championships, at the St. Mark's School. This was the most important meet of our season and our second place finish was sweet. Gwen Stokes ('04) and Laura Ellison ('04) earned all New-England honors with their fifth and sixth place finishes, respectively. As your captains, Catherine and Elizabeth, we want to thank all you girls for such a great season. Best of luck to next year's team and to next year's captain, Shaena Tucker.

Facing Challenges

The women's field hockey team faced many challenges from the beginning of the season. We had a new coach for the third time in four years, and we lost one of our strongest players early in the season.

Due to many of these challenges, our record suffered a bit throughout the field hockey season. However, it does not reflect the hard work of the team. During each game, whether we were winning or losing, every player gave her all. The determination and effort put out by the field hockey team of '99 truly made this a winning season.

2+2 = Football!

The '99 GDA football team entered the fall with expectations of defending its ISL co-championship crown from the previous season. However, due to various injuries and losses of key players, attaining that level of play was not in the team's future for the season. With a strong showing in both our opening league game and on parents' weekend, we came away with wins over BB&N and Rivers. Losses against Lawrence and Brooks came down to the last five minutes of the game in which we were seven points fewer than our opponents.

With a strong nucleus of returners, we are expecting to continue the GDA winning tradition in the '00 season. Thanks go to the graduating seniors, including captains Brad Downey, Nick Mincolla and team MVP Dale Williams. We will look towards next year's captains Joe Fannon, Nino Balestrieri and JJ Morrissey to lead us back to the top

Learning Experience

Fall drama '99 was a fantastic learning experience for everyone involved. With two productions, the actors and techies both had a chance to shine their lights. The first performance was Walker, a production that gave GDA students a taste of what professional drama is all about. GDA's own Mr. Wann and Mr. Young rounded out the cast that told the story of David Walker, a former slave who focused his life toward abolition. Although the students were not the focus of the play, they did speak and sing in the choir. This first play of the season was described as a "rousing success".

Walker was an act that was hard to follow, but a few weeks later, GDA"varsity drama" performed again with an amazing performance of Proteus 2000.

The Real World

Every afternoon of the 1999 fall season, the Varsity Community Service Team would gather around the French Building at 3:15. To prepare for our "away game" many would grab a snack and then jump into our assigned vans. With one of our fearless leader drivers, Mrs. White (a.k.a. Senor Blanco), Mrs. Abu, or Dr. O at the wheel, we would courageously exit our small GDA community into what some call, "the real world." The three vans departed to either turning point; the hospital, the YMCA, or a local school. Kym, Jordan, Amrit and Ande went to Anna Jaques Hospital in Newburyport. Our experiences there ranged from childcare, to photocopying, to typing and putting tiny plastic letters on a felt message board. We enjoyed our time there each afternoon and exited each day with a smile. We would then jump back into the van and see the Turning Point people (Fred, Chelsea, and Anabel). We found them, although sometimes asleep, happy as well. So what does this all mean? Community Service is a sport. It exercises the soul through helping others. This fall, many, if not all of us learned what "Non Sibi Sed Alis" means, and came away smiling.

Fun on the Ice

The Women's Varsity Hockey team had a very sucessful season. With a core of very experienced seniors, the team had a good season and ended with a .500 record. Junior Beth Depratto tallied 47 goals and was awarded with All- League honors and co - MVP along with her sister, senior Cassie Depratto.

The team was led by senior captains Janet Hanson and Cassie Depratto. Highlights of the season included beating Brooks in the Westminster tournament, which won a third place. Beating BB&N for the first time in school history was also one of our major accomplishments.

Cassie and Janet wish to send their luck to next year's team in hopes that they will continue the winning tradition that was established this year. Good luck girls!

From the Center

The scoreboard of the Varsity Men's Hockey Team in no way reflects the true success the team had this year. Full of new talent, such as goalie Gabe Winer, the team went on to conquer great heights in it's 2000 season.

One of the greatest successes the team was thankful for was the true fan base it possessed. No matter how the team may have been doing, the fans of the school were always there to support us. Such events as the Thayer game were ones the team will never forget.

Thank you to all our seniors : Carson Shedd, Ryan Shelly, Mike Mullins, Justin Fishman, Charles Taylor and John Bernadino. Thanks also go to coach Kravchuck. Thank you for believing in us. Good luck to next year's team. You will go on to be great!

Who's Got Skills

What an amazing season!We finished with one of the best records in GDA women's basketball history. With eight returning players, we started off the season incredibly strong. With the talent added, we became nearly unstoppable. We had many tough games including the St. Pauls game in which Vanessa's buzzer beater basket won it for us. GDA made it all the way to the semi-finals, but lost in a tough battle.

Girls Bball should be very proud of their accomplishments this year and I expect to see you make it all the way to the finals next year!! Yeah Red Dawgs!

Teamwork

John Wooden once said, "Great things are accomplished through the perfection of small details." For this year's Varsity Basketball Team, the perfection of small details was truly what made the difference between a win or a loss.

Most outstanding was the ability of the five starters, who had never played together before, to come into each game and provide both solid defense and offense. Steve Georgeoulis, Scott Pelletier, and Antonio Valverde provided many needed points and rebounds from under the rim, which were determining factors in several of our games. Marco Joubert carried the team this year in only his junior year.

This Varsity Team had the ability to compete with teams in and out of the League. Governor Dummer pulled out a great win over Phillips Andover winning 57-54, with scoring being led by Marco Joubert and Scott Pelletier. They also beat Lawrence Academy in another three point victory, 72-69. The team traveled as far as New York to face NYBC and Connecticut to compete in the Kent School Holiday Tournament.

This was a remarkable season with many good and bad memories which will all help to shape our lives as basketball players and people. Thank you to all those who supported this team and helped them in their accomplishments. Peace out, Duke!!!

Rising Above

This winter season was a transition year, but the women's volleyball team came through successfully. Our new coach gave us an intense knowledge of the game (Larrie, you are a sweetheart. Thanks for taking on the challenge). The team defeated the majority of the teams in the E.I.L., but suffered a loss to a very strong Milton team. We took second place in the E.I.L. tournament while playing some of our most intense volleyball of the season.

We had the privilage of entering the New England tournament placing fourth.

Each year the volleyball team improves and brings honor to GDA. I am very proud to be a part of such an enthusiastic and dedicated team. Special thanks go to Michelle Wheeler, our only senior. You made this year so special and are very deserving of the Coache's Award. I wish for many great seasons to follow, girls! Bump, set, spike, scare! Go GDA!

Down N' Dirty

High expectations marked the beginning of the year, despite the fact that the wrestling team was composed of mostly first year wrestlers and was being led by a new head coach. The lack of experience, especially in our lower weights, didn't seem to dampen the spirits or goals of the team. One of the most satisfying wins was a major victory over our long-standing wrestling rival, Belmont Hill. We drove on with ever more strength and determination, finishing off the year with a proud winning record. 103 pound "boy wonder" Alex Harris ignited the team with spirit in both matches and practice.Captain Joe Shedosky played a pivotal role on the team and secured 6th place for his weight in the league tournament. Captain Ian Hughes wrestled as a strong force and took second place in the league tournament. But our new heavyweight Ralphie Rodriguez was the team's prized possession, finishing the year undefeated in the league and in the league tournament, dominating his way to champion of the league.

Godspell!

Godspell, the winter drama production, was nothing short of brilliant. The show demonstrates the Godspell according to St. Matthew. The plot consisted of how the followers of Christ came to be, what His teachings were and the last supper, when all of His disciples turned on him. Although the subject matter was heavily religious, one did not have to be religious to enjoy the play. The basic theme was love of life and it was clear that not only the actors could relate to this play, but also the entire audience could as well.

Athough the set lacked enthusiasm, the cast lit up the stage with their song of enlightenment. The large cast seemed to act as one on the stage. Each member had a part to play that seemed equally as important as the next. Godspell brought joy and fright; some were even moved to tears. It truly was a remarkable show to remember.

Through the Good & Bad Times

This year's Women's Lacrosse team was strengthened by some exciting new additions to a team full of veterans. These additions helped increase the team's tenacity as it went on to have a great season. Despite the many rained-out Wednesday games, the team pulled together and played their hardest on Saturdays.

There were many standouts this year. Beth Depratto proved once again to be a strength on the offensive side. Newcomers Delia Cox and Vanessa Russell were very strong as well. Captain KK Scharfe worked her amazing craft on the defensive side. Captain Loren Montgomery served as a concrete force her last year in goal. She, as well as our other seniors KK Scharfe, Meghan Barry, Rachel Abdulla, Holly Erickson and Kate Mitchell will be missed. Good luck to next year's team, and keep the momentum going girls!

With Spirit

The Women's Tennis Team had a very successful season as well as lots of fun on and off the court. Coach Moore's knowledge of the game and constant enthusiasm added a great deal to the depth and spirit of the team.

The team, despite a series of injuries, was able to end the season with a winning record. The team's veterans, Jess Ross, Emily Dana and Jamie Gilberg, were joined by some very talented underclassmen. Jackie Ross came onto the team and filled it's number one spot, while Morgan Kerr also came onto the top of the ladder to fill the number three spot. Other underclassmen Kate Hugo, Eden Gudonis and Genna Grasso added strength to the bottom half of the ladder. The tennis team was able to add fun to practices, matches and even van rides! The stength, ability and admirable spirit found in the returners assures the team a promising season next year. Good luck to next year's captain, Jess Ross. YOU GO GIRL!

Five seniors are leaving the team this year: Cian O'Neill, Jeff Clyde, Sulaiman Alireza, Nick Mezger and Chang Sohn. This may allow next year's team to get a fresh start, with every player ready to take on their opponents with force. Good luck to next year's team.

Ride the Train

The Women's Softball team rocked the house this year! With an undefeated record running through much of the season, these girls played fiercely to win every game.

With captains Jesse Kendrick, Lindsay Gobin and Michelle Wheeler leading the way under Coach Kingsbury's instruction, the softball team made it to the softball playoffs, only to walk away with a loss.

But no matter, this team had unity like no other, and players like no other, with the talents of players such as Cassie Depratto, Annie Adamczyk and Shannon Falvey.

There is no doubt that next year's team will go all the way to win the championships, and we'll all be there to see it happen! Good luck to next year's team, and keep ridin' the train!

Comin' on Strong

The Men's Varsity Baseball team did not disappoint this year, just as they haven't in past years. Under the great leadership of captains Carson Shedd and Derek Falvey, and with the knowledge of coaches Hirsch and Gettings, the team went on to accomplish great things this season.

Derek Falvey was, once again, a great presence on the mound with his pitching skills. Carson Shedd proved to be valuable in the catcher's position and Pete Aloisi kept the momentum going with his fine work around third base.

The team hopes to go all the way next year and be the best it can be. Good luck to next year's team. Keep the force going boys!

To the Finish

The track and field season for both the men and women was filled with excitement. The drastic improvement was definitely noted by all at the end of the season. Although our numbers were small, we still competed with determination and tenacity. We often left our opponents in the dust and in awe of our performances.

For the women, there were many outstanding performances throughout the season. Seniors, Diana Burnell, Zenovia Wright, Kat Sager and captains Liz Turbull and Daria Grayer helped set an unforgettable example for all of the underclassmen on the team. There were some performances that should be duly noted: Liz Turnbull's performance in the New England division II championships(800), Daria Grayer's undefeated season which led to and All-ISL ranking as well as an All-New England ranking for the 300 hurdles. Lucinda Boyce also had a great season, making her way to the top in the ISL.

The men also found success, with their captains Nate Efinger and Nino Balestrieri leading them. Both captains were ranked number one in both the ISL and New England (Div III) for their events.

It was a hard but amazing season, but without the hard repeat workouts from coaches Karen, Abu, Weir and Sedgwick, we would not have found as much success. Thank you, coaches, for making my last season unforgettable. To my teamates, keep working hard and go for the gold.

This year's golf team was led by co-captains Charles Taylor and Jim Clair. With the solid wisdom of Coach Moonves and Coach Ceglarski, this young team (the youngest in the I.S.L.) showed signs of brilliance throughout the season. Being a very competitive group, we always expected the best. Though the outcome may not have been in the win column, we all played incredibly close in our matches. We gave our best until the last putt had fallen. Next year's captain Tim Lamson will have a great team that will no doubt make a run at the top of the league. Spring With Stoppard

Mike exhibits his knowledge on the stage.

Simon and Elisabeth attempt to solve their puzzle of logic.

This season, GDA drama took on one of its most challenging projects to date with what some called "Spring With Stoppard." Two Plays were prduced: Arcadia, a two-act play dealing with science, literature and sex in the modern and romantic eras; and The Real Inspector Hound, a one-act work that puts a play within a play as a way of exploring people's roles on the stage we call life. Arcadia and The Real Inspector Hound were both written by British playwright Tom Stoppard. Both plays featured spectacular GDA student actors. Senior actors Paige Ramsdell, Elisabeth Coolidge, Mark Lipman, Simon Panall, Yori Senser, Bettina Romberg and Genevieve Reynolds played their last GDA roles ever. It was a learning experience for the cast and crew alike, with one of the best sets yet seen on the GDA stage. Stoppard's comedies take intelligence and humor to interpret correctly, and this spring's cast was the group of actors to do just that. Here's to Varsity Spring Drama 2000.

COMMENCEMENT

The Morse Flag

The Morse Flag was first awarded 87 years ago at the 150th Commencement of this school on June 9, 1913, and it has been awarded each year since that time to the senior whose record in all respects has met with the highest approval of the faculty. According to the trust established by the late Rev. Glenn Tilley Morse, a long-time friend and trustee of the Academy, a new flag is provided each year in order that the old flag which has flown over the school during the past year may be given to a member of the graduating class.

This young man has spent a great deal of time at the rarified heights of stellar achievement, yet his feet are firmly planted on GDA's terra firma. He is an accomplished scholar whith a soaring intelect who has sagely pursed a multitude of academic opportunities during his four years as a Governor. His interests are varied, but his purpose has always been simple and straightforward: to explore, to satisfy a never-ending curiosity, to learn. An unavoidable by-product of his admirable quest has been his unparalleled sucess in the classroom, which he has always treated with upmost humility. A warm engaging sense of humor gently accompanies him on his journey, and we are all energized and called to action by his calm passion and direction. His accomplishments extend far beyond the classroom, and his transition to other venues is seamless. He has challenged his body as an athlete and his soul as an artist, and it is no coincidence that his teammates, classmates and friends praise him as a leader and innovator. As a proctor he has been an adept link, a subtle adhesive that has helped his dorm thrive as single, healthy unit. His character and integrity are beyond question. His teachers and coaches are grateful that their jobs are made easier, that they are enriched and rewarded by his fertile spirit. For these reasons and more, he can be thought of as the fulcrum on which his class has balanced. When faced with uncertainty or difficulty the Class of 2000 may have reassured themselves with a battle cry of "He is one of us." He is a real person, genuine, respected by and accesible to all. He has led by example and shown us that indeed he can do it all.

The Peter Bragdon Headmaster's Cup

Peter W. Bragdon Headmaster's Cup is given to that senior who, in the judgment of the headmaster, has served the mission of the school.

This senior has made her mark throughout the school in a variety of ways. She is one of the outstanding scholars in the class of 2000. Her extraordinary musical talents have thrilled and uplifted audiences and also have helped to heal the community in times of intense sorrow. She has emersed herself into a different culture enthusiastically and has faced with grace and determination the numerous challenges that accompany such a transition. She was selected to be a dormitory proctor and a peer counsellor because she is reliable, trustworthy and generous with her friendship. She has not disappointed. Her inclination to serve others, her compassion and her discretion, have made her a trusted friend and confidant to fellow students. She has also extended herself into the wider community where she has taught Sunday School at her church, and has helped families who have adopted Korean children understand and take pride in their new child's culture of origin. With respect, appreciation and pride, this year's Headmaster's Cup is awarded to

Hee-Jeong Cho of Kyungkido, Korea

The Academy Prize

There are two prizes which are awarded by vote of the entire faculty: One is the Morse Flag, the other, the Academy Prize. Upon retirement of Headmaster Ted Eames in 1959 the underclassmen of the Academy endowed the already existing Academy Prize so that henceforth at each Commencement it could be given "in honor of Edward W. and Eleanor K. Eames so that the qualities they so deeply prized might be prized in turn by future and succeeding classes." Those visiting the Phillips Building will find inscribed on the paneling outside my office door, in the entry-way of the Cobb Room, the names of all Morse Flag winners, reaching back to 1913, and the winners of this Academy Prize from 1931.

One of her teachers commented: "To have this student in my class is to have the sun rising and the band playing and the people talking and laughing and learning." Her enthusiasm, determination and passion energized every endevor that she has engaged in during her four years at GDA. In the classroom, her determined effort led to remarkable growth, to the point where she has become one of the most articulate voices in her class. One English teacher said to her " Whenever your class turned in papers, I put yours on the bottom of the pile, like desert or the tail of the lobster, I was saving one of the best for last." Her passion for learning carried over into involvement in a myriad of activities outside the classroom. She educated us all with her leadership of diversity and anti-racist awareness programs, with her brilliant on-stage portrayal of Frederick Douglas, and with her Martin Luther King Day and Black History Month activities. She has been an actress on our stage and a successful photographer whose striking photographs graced the walls of our art gallery. A member of the staff of both the Governor and the Milestone, where she served as Co- Editor-In-Chief this year. And yet her presence in service organizations, has been her strongest contribution where she has personified not only the school motto, Non Sibi Sed Aliis, but also her own strong ethical and moral beliefs. With a remarkable warmth and a seemingly endless concern for others, she did community service teaching swimming at the Newburyport YMCA, she served as the head of Opening Ceremonies for the Special Olympics and she was an active member of our Peer Advisor group. After significant service within GDA's borders, she ventured out to the Lawrence Boys and Girls Club, the Lazarus House homeless shelter. Even the boundaries of the United States proved no limit on her desire to serve; she spent time during the last two summers building homes for the poorest families of the Dominican Republic. On the athletic field she has demonstrated the same determination and courage that she has shown in the classroom and with her service activities. Often the last to leave practice, always a source of encouragement for her teammates, she was a 4-year varsity letter-winner in both soccer and track, a captain of both sports. She was also New England champion in the 300 meter hurdles this year and a qualifier for the Junior Olympics. She has been a teacher as well as a learner. She brings a strong moral grounding to everything she does. Her warmth, enthusiasm and service have inspired all of us to become more positive, more enthusiatic, more concerned for others. She has brightened our lives for four years; her remarkable accomplishments have inspired us all to become better people.

The Thorndike Hilton Cup

The Thorndike Hilton Cup was established by the class of 1919 in memory of their classmate, Thorndike Hilton. It is awarded each year to the ranking scholar in the senior class.

This year's recipient personifies commitment to learning. She exhibits boundless curiosity in science and math, and joy in language and rhetoric. She does not hesitate to expose herself to new ideas and new challenges. Her rapier wit and intellectual honesty inspire and challenge her teachers. She is generous and thoughtful toward her peers, often arranging "extra help" sessions in the dorm at night. She enthusiastically participates in theater productions and the performing arts. She is courageous in all aspects of her education — "can't" is simply not part of her vocabulary.

Special Prizes

Milton L. Dodge of Newburyport was a member of the class of 1911, father of an alumnus, devoted friend and neighbor of Headmaster Edward W. Eames and a generous benefactor of the Academy. He made provisions in his will to provide for prizes to be awarded to "members of the Governor Dummer senior class whose perseverance, courage, initiative, sense of responsibility, loyalty, and concern for others have contributed to the strength of the Academy."

The Wilkie Service Award

The Wilkie Service Award in honor of Valleau and Marjorie Wilkie is awarded to a senior whose contributions to the community outside the school have best demonstrated the deep concern and the unfailing sympathy for others, for which the Wilkie headmastership is notably remembered.

This years recipient understands the challenge "to whom so much is given, much is expected." Service to others plays a major role in her approach to life. She has worked faithfully at the Newburyport YWCA in their afternoon program and she has cared for children at a recovery home for battered women. She was also the driving force in the most successful blood drive that GDA has sponsored in recent memory. Social service providers rave about her maturity, her commitment and her competence. Appropriately, she intends to pursue a career in the human service field.

Gretchen M. Gee of Tenants Harbor, Maine

The Edward J. Rybicki Prize is awarded to the graduating senior who as a member of the staff of the Governor, best demonstrates the qualities found in the teacher for whom the prize is named: selflessness, sense of humor, responsibility toward the welfare of others and the courage to live by a strong set of personal beliefs.

Elizabeth D. Turnbull of Wenham, Massachusetts

The Edward J. Rybicki Prize

Empathy and respect for others, compassion and community spirit are traits highly admired at Governor Dummer Academy. The Alumni Association Award is given to that senior who best exemplifies these qualities. At the senior dinner, Daniel John Muxie of Hampton, New Hampshire received a replica of the brass key to the Red Schoolhouse upon his selection as the 2000 recipient of the Alumni Association Award. In addition, Dan will be presented a copy of the citation that was read at the senior dinner.

Daniel John Muxie of Hampton, New Hampshire

The Alumni Association Award

The Anne Marie Murphy Athletic Award

The Anne Marie Murphy Athletic Award is given annually at commencement time to that senior girl who, by her example and her achievement in athletics, has brought the greatest honor to her school during the past year. The recipient of this award has been the heart, soul, and muscle of our varsity field hockey and lacrosse teams. This remarkable young athlete has earned a long list of accolades; including all league honors and several most valuable player awards for field hockey and lacrosse. She has been named an All-American lacrosse player twice. Last summer she was chosen to represent the United States as a member of our national team. There is little doubt that this young woman's athletic star will continue to shine brightly.

Kirsten W. Scharfe of Manchester, Massachusetts

The Gaffney Prize

The Gaffney prize, established in mem-ory of Robert A. Gaffney of the class of 1940 is awarded to that senior who, in the opinion of the faculty, has been most considerate of the rights, opinions and sensibilities of others. This calm and steady young woman has made a habit of volunteering for just about every organization which enables her to help others. From Special Olympics, to the International Rescue Committee, to Project Outreach, to serving as a Peer advisor and a dormitory proctor. She is modest and self-effacing and routinely deflects credit to others.

Catherine E. Correia of Wakefield, Massachusetts

The Goodwin Athletic Prize, established by Mr. Fred H. Goodwin of the class of 1916, a trustee of the Academy from 1916 to 1949, is given to that senior boy who, by his athletic achievement and sportsmanship, has brought the greatest honor to his school during the past year. The recipient of this award is an enthusiastic and diligent competitor. His desire to reach his potential as an athlete is overshadowed only by his commitment to sportsmanship and fair play. He upholds the notion of "non sibi sed aliis". He was the captain of the varsity baseball team, the winner of the senior baseball trophy, and the deserving winner of the Wasson Award presented to the unsung hero on the varsity hockey team.

Carson Whittier Shedd, of Lincoln, Maine

The Goodwin Athletic Prize

The Peter Marshall French Trophy

The French Memorial Trophy has been given by his sister in loving memory of Peter Marshall French. It is inscribed each year with the name of a student at any level whose perseverance, sportsmanship and generous spirit on the playing field, regardless of distinction as an athlete, represent the highest standards of participation. A letter winner in soccer, ice hockey and lacrosse, the recipient of this award is a truly dedicated athlete. He is the consummate team player. One of the very few three-season athletes this year, this young man's determination, diligence, and enthusiasm make him an appropriate recipient of this award.

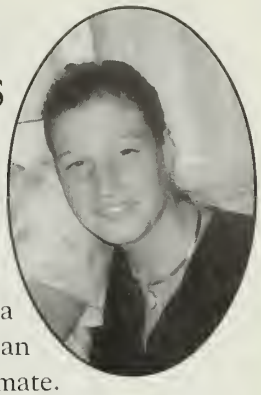
Jonathan Nicholas Beradino, of Peabody, Massachusetts

The Thesbian Award

The Thespian Award was first made in 1971. It is awarded for meritorious work in the field of dramatics, for inspiring participation, for providing leadership and developing theatrical knowledge and abilities. She was a regional finalist in the English Speaking Union's Shakespeare competition. On stage, off stage, backstage, she gives unselfishly and joyfully She is a thrilling actress, a soulful dancer, a sweet singer, a tireless worker. She lives her love of theatre even when not acting in a show. She comes to sweep the stage and help with makeup. When told Thompson might be demolished, she proclaimed in sorrow: "I want a brick!" A true daughter of Dionysus.

Elisabeth A. Coolidge of Epson, New Hampshire

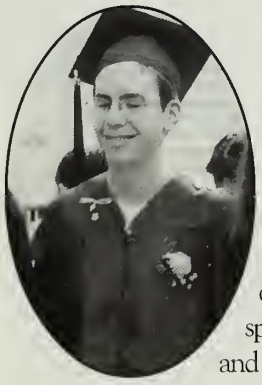
The Cumings Prize



She is an artist, an athlete, and a scholar. She is a dutiful daughter, a loyal friend, and an enthusiastic teammate. Her resume includes a gold key from the Boston Globe for her art, college credit for her work in AP English, and varsity letters for field hockey and ice hockey. Remember her chapel talk and the clothes pins you gave and received! The senior art show will long be rembered because of her creativity and hard work. This year's prize goes to a young person with prized eyes. In her photographs, in her friendships, in her work, you will see great love for life and great joy in living.

Teaya L. Bromley of Byfield, Massachusetts

The Barriskill Prize



In a school where music is so much a part of our lives, the class of 2000 has set a particularly high standard for excellence. Individually and collectively, you have all brought us much joy and inspired those who will follow in your footsteps. With so many talented musicians in this class it is hard to single out just one or two for distinction. However, two members of the graduating class deserve special praise. One is a gifted instrumentalist who has sacrificed much and logged a great many miles in order to scale olympian heights of achievement. The other honoree comes from a distinguished line of talented singers. He is certainly one of the best we have ever heard at the Academy. Both have been remarkable ambassadors for Governor Dummer in various venues, including Symphony Hall, Jordan Hall and European concert halls. We have been priviledged to know and hear them.

Mark Jacob Lipman of Newburyport, Massachusetts

Thomas Robert Hand of Georgetown, Massachusetts

In 1982 Kittie and Tom Mercer made possible the Mercer Art Prize as a means for recognizing talent and performance in the field of art. It sets a demanding standard: exceptional creativity and originality by a senior who has earned honor grades in all available studio art and art history courses. She comes to us from the state of Alaska, bringing with her an intense appreciation for the natual environment along with an unabiding interest in mythology and its many fantastical creatures. She has used her creative talents to decorate the halls and rooms of our campus. She approaches her work with true dedication. Her work carries with it extraordinary attention to detail. She is a self-confident, curious and ambitious student. Her work has elevated our spirit.

Willow Maja Malick of Juneau, Alaska

The Mercer Art Prize

The Sarah Avalon Award

The Sarah Avalon Award is awarded to that senior who through hard work, determination and strength of character, has worked to develop his or her potential to the fullest and in so doing, has been a true credit to Governor Dummer Academy. As a student, he has impressed us with his commitment to learning, and dogged determination to succeed. Perhaps his English teacher put it best when he recently commented: "he is interested in important questions and meanings rather than in ready solutions and surface realities." He has come to embrace the process of learning for the inherent value which lies in true understanding. He has been an articulate spokesman for what is right, fair and honorable. He was elected captain of three sports : football, wrestling and lacrosse. Perhaps his best tool for expression, though, has been his harmonica. His mesmerizing blues offered us a glimpse into his soul, and allowed us an opportunity to explore ours.

The Milestone

In the words of Jerry Garcia, "What a long, strange trip it's been." Indeed. The yearbook of the Millennium is complete, we did it, and it's HOT!!!! When taking on the position of editor, one has no idea what is in store, but it soon hits like a ton of bricks! But what better way to work than under pressure?

Seniors, it's the end of a very special time in our lives, a time of fun and friends. But we won't forget these times, for we are the class of 2000, the class of the Millennium, and here's the book to prove it. Enjoy it to the fullest. It's been interesting, most definately. Thank you all for keeping our heads in it and making this job as challenging as possible! Good luck, and know that you can always look back on these days through the pages of your high school yearbook.

Thank you to all those that have helped us with this absolutely amazing product:

Sean Gill, Courtney Marino, Emily Dana, Karen Bissell, Holly Erickson, Catherine Correia, Cian O'Neill, Elizabeth Turnbull, Kempton Randolph, Mike Woods, Heather Jameson, Ande Tagliamonte, Lauren Bonaventura, Alyssa Chirlin, Dan Guyton and Ben Gobin.

Mr. Oxton and Mr. Kelly, thank you both for all your support and advice throughout the year. It is appreciated more than you know. Without it, I'm not sure if anything would have gotten done!

Alyssa and Lauren, you both have great talent, and we wish you the best of luck next year!

The dreadful events that plagued the life of John F. Kennedy Jr. painted an eerie backdrop for the tragic plane crash that killed him, his wife, Caralyn Bessette Kennedy, and her sister, Lauren Bessette. The bodies of the three victims were recovered by divers in the Atlantic about seven miles off of Martha's Vineyard, where the Piper Saratoga II Kennedy was piloting crashed five days before. In the end, the nation and the world was left to mourn the loss of a man they came to know as a little boy, saluting the casket of his assassinated father, a boy who grew up to inherit the bittersweet Kennedy legacy.

The first manned flight of a heavier-than-air craft by the Wright brothers in 1903 was a monumental benchmark, achieving one of humanity's wildest dreams. Like kids with a new toy, the two brothers, bicycle mechanics by trade, took turns flying the craft made of wood, wire and cloth, at one point keeping it aloft for 59 seconds. The Wright brothers' craft, which they called the Flyer, made what was once considered impossible possible and opened the heavens for the future advancement of flight. Those advancements happened very quickly with nearly all the elements of the modern airplane in place a mere 15 years after Orville and Wilbur's historic day at Kitty Hawk.

The horrific actions of Germany's Adolf Hitler and his Nazi regime against the Jews of Europe, coupled with similar totalitarian regimes in Japan and Italy, launched the Second World War in 1939. With the Japanese bombing of Pearl Harbor in 1941, the U.S. joined Great Britain and the Allied Forces to fight the aggression of the Axis powers. Decisive victories by the Allies led to Italy's surrender in 1943. Germany surrendered unconditionally in 1945, when Hitler committed suicide and the German resistance collapsed. Later that year, with U.S. troops poised to invade Japan's home islands, President Harry Truman ordered the dropping of the atomic bomb on Hiroshima and Nagasaki. Japan quickly announced its surrender, thereby bringing to an end the costliest war in history.

In 1928, General Electric engineer Ernst F.W. Alexanderson laid the crude foundation for television, one of the most powerful, influential media in history. Nineteen years later, with the broadcast of the 1947 World Series, television's growing importance was clinched. By the end of the 1950s, nearly 90 percent of U.S. homes could boast at least one TV set. The world no longer needed to be imagined — now it could be seen and heard.

Racial unrest simmered to a boil in 1955 with two key events sparking one of the greatest civil rights movements in history. The first involved a young black girl named Linda Brown, who questioned her inability to attend the school nearest her home. Brown v. the Board of Education of Topeka eventually resulted in a Supreme Court decision banning segregation in public schools and opening the door to equal access to education for blacks in America. That was just the beginning. A short time after the Brown decision, Rosa Parks, a 42-year-old black woman, refused to give up her seat to a white passenger on a bus in Montgomery, Ala., and was arrested. Martin Luther King Jr. got involved at that point and carried the torch for his people until he was assassinated 13 years later.

The aspirations of a young leader and a supporting nation came to an abrupt halt on Nov. 22, 1963, when President John F. Kennedy was assassinated by rifle fire while being driven in an open car through the streets of Dallas. JFK's assassination shocked a nation and profoundly changed the way people viewed the world. At 46, Kennedy became the fourth president to be assassinated and the eighth to die in office. The alleged assassin, 24-year-old Lee Harvey Oswald, was shot and killed by nightclub owner Jack Ruby two days later, leaving behind only suspicions of what his motives were and whether or not he was the lone gunman. Although the Warren Commission determined Oswald probably acted alone, the House Select Committee on Assassinations concluded in 1979 that a conspiracy was likely and that it may have involved organized crime. These differing opinions served to bolster the black cloud of controversy that has continued to surround the Kennedy assassination.

Electrifying audiences with their fresh musical talents and boyish good looks, the Beatles took America by storm with their inaugural performance on "The Ed Sullivan Show" in February 1964. Rock music would never be the same as the English quartet's music evolved from a tight rhythm and blues to allusive lyricism. The impact of the Beatles revolutionized the music industry and, in one way or another, touched the lives of all who heard them. The Beatles dominated the 1960s far beyond their music, transforming the world by ushering in a societal shift in which youth culture assertively took over and began to thrive.

The first U.S. troops were committed to Vietnam in 1961 by President John F. Kennedy at the request of South Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem. Their mission was to help fight North Vietnamese communists controlled by Ho Chi Minh and southern rebels of the Viet Cong. The number of troops committed was minimal at first, and the American people accepted the action, believing it was necessary to halt the spread of communism. By 1968, U.S. troop build-up in Vietnam would reach its peak of 549,000 troops. Although there had been notable anti-war sentiment from the beginning, opposition eventually grew to a two to one margin. By 1973, when the war ended and U.S. troops returned home, two to three million Vietnamese and 58,000 Americans had been killed.

What was once thought to be impossible became a reality in 1969, when Apollo 11 astronauts set foot on the moon. Those historic steps were taken by Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. and Neil A. Armstrong, who descended to the moon's surface and landed their lunar module in the Sea of Tranquility. Armstrong stepped first and addressed the world with what has became one of the best-known phrases of modern times: "That's one small step for man, one giant leap for mankind." It was also a giant leap ahead for Americans in the space race with Russia. Six additional Apollo missions were made before the end of the program in December 1972 and, with the exception of Apollo 13, all landed successfully on the lunar surface.

The explosion of the space shuttle Challenger in 1986, resulting in the deaths of all seven astronauts aboard, horrified the nation and the world and dealt a severe blow to NASA's fledgling shuttle program. Challenger exploded 73 seconds after liftoff from Kennedy Space Center in Florida, as millions watched on television. A presidential panel determined that the fatal flaw was not in Challenger, but rather a faulty sealant ring in one of two 149-foot-tall solid rocket boosters. Dead as a result of the worst disaster in the history of space exploration was Christa McAuliffe, who was to be the first teacher and private citizen in space, and crew members Frank Scobee, Michael Smith, Judith Resnik, Ellison Onizuka, Ronald McNair and Gregory Jarvis. Two years passed before another shuttle was launched into space.

The first widely used commercial computer, Univac I, was built in 1951 for the U.S. Census Bureau. From vacuum tube logic gates to transistors to microchips, powerful desktop computers and tiny microprocessors helped shape late 20th Century life. Found everywhere by 1990, computers evolved to move the world out of the space age and into the Internet-driven information age. With the Internet and electronic mail, or e-mail, all corners of the globe were now at the computer-user's fingertips.

George C. Scott, the masterful actor and director best known for his portrayal of Gen. George S. Patton, died in September of an aortic aneurysm. Scott's role in the 1970 film, "Patton," earned him the Oscar for best actor, an award he refused to accept because of his belief that the Academy Awards were offensive and innately corrupt. Scott received two other Academy Award nominations for best supporting actor in 1962 and for best actor in 1972, and also won an Emmy for his work in the 1998 remake of "12 Angry Men," which aired on cable television.

Clayton Moore, a.k.a. the Lone Ranger, died in July of a heart attack at the age of 85. The masked hero of television and films became an American icon, racing on horseback to the "William Tell Overture" and with his customary cry of "Hi-Yo, Silver!" Having been an acrobat before becoming an actor, Moore was also well-known for doing his own stunts on film.

Walter Payton, the NFL's all-time rushing leader, died of cancer in November, just 10 months after announcing he had a rare liver disease and would need a transplant to live. Nicknamed "Sweetness" for his effortless running style and caring personality, the Hall of Fame running back set 10 all-time NFL records, including most career rushing yards, 16,726, and most career carries at 3,838. Payton's single-game mark of 275 rushing yards against Minnesota in 1977 is a record many believe will never be broken.

Basketball legend Wilt Chamberlain, 63, died in October of an apparent heart attack. Considered one of the greatest centers to ever play the game, Chamberlain's 100-point game in 1962 remains as one of the most revered records in all of sports. His hall-of-fame career with the Philadelphia 76ers and Los Angeles Lakers also includes NBA records for most rebounds in a game, 55, and for averaging over 50 points per game for an entire season.
